

Choice One rewards employees for their United Way support

In 2007, another successful year was realized by Choice One Engineering Corp., located at 440 E. Hoewisher Road in Sidney. Continued growth over the past 13 years has driven

Schroeder

Choice One Engineering to be a leader in the civil engineering and surveying field. The company looks for this growth to continue by offering both established and innovative design, new technology including GPS-enabled survey equipment, and dependable, responsive services.

President Tony Schroeder remarked on the progress of several local projects. The Village of Russia Water System project, which includes the installation of a water treatment plant, water tower, and water distribution system, was successfully awarded and construction will begin in early 2008. Construction was completed on another local project, the installation of a new McCartyville sanitary sewer system.

Schroeder's report continues:

Choice One Engineering's staff of engineers and surveyors provides services for a varied cross-section of clients throughout 25 counties in Ohio. Services include civil engineering for public and private clients including land development; street, highway, and bridge design; construction layout staking; and topographic and boundary surveys. Municipal services include planning, zoning, annexation, subdivision regulations, grantsmanship, computer mapping, street and roadway design, water distribution system design, storm sewer design, and sanitary sewer design. As local funds for municipalities diminish and the cost of maintaining infrastructure increases, Choice One Engineering continues to work with municipalities to explore state and federal funding opportunities, including ODOT, USDA, and OPWC.

Choice One Engineering's staff grew in 2007, with the full-time employment of Brian Schmidt of Yorkshire. Brian graduated from the University of Toledo with a Bachelor's Degree in Civil Engineering and will join the Engineering Department at Choice One.
